

UISZ Community Summary – Week 34

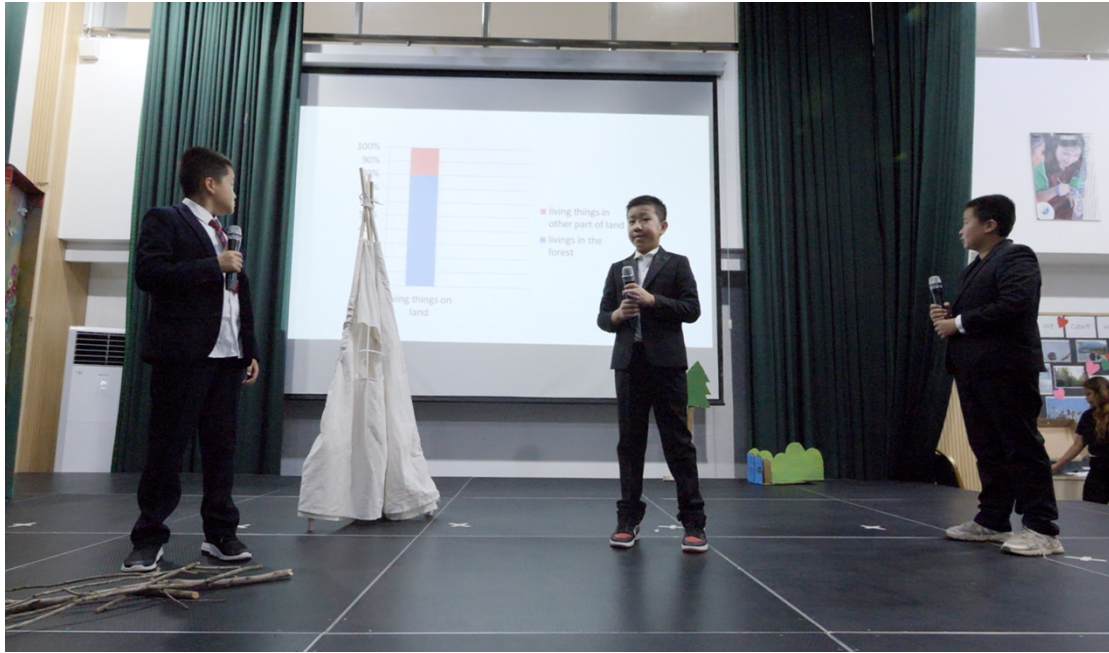

INTRO

This week was a very busy week on campus with the rehearsals for, and performance of the PYP Exhibition which included performances for students staff on Wednesday and for parents on Friday. Meanwhile Week Without Walls continues for MYP students.

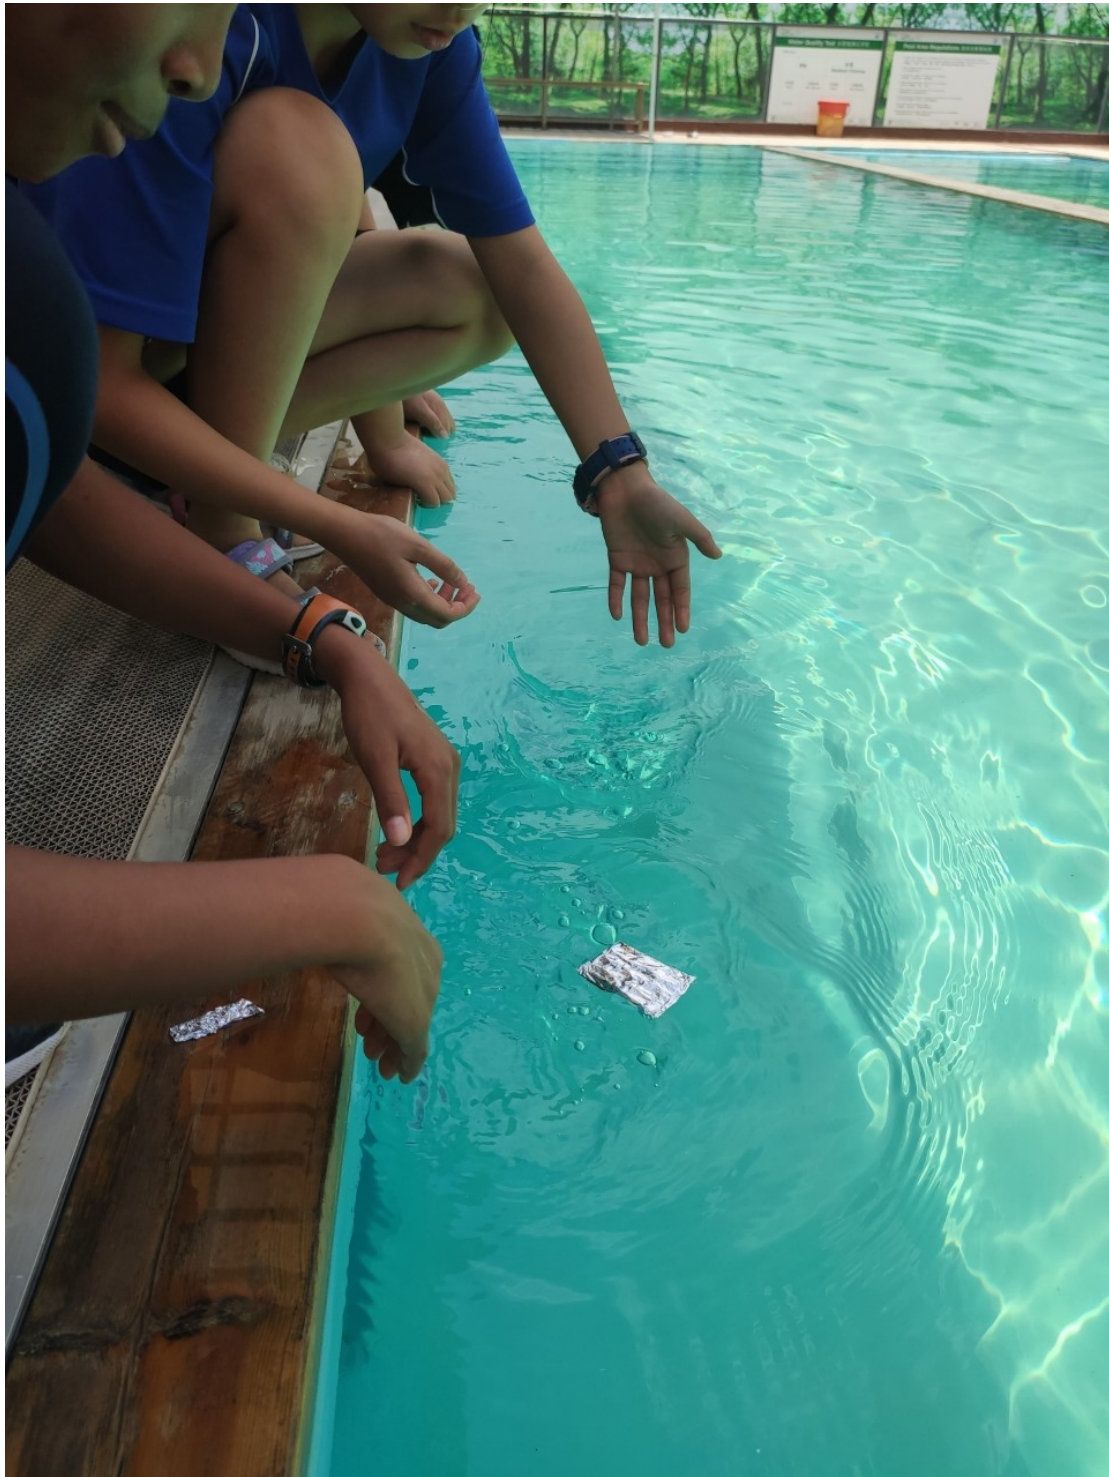

PYP

This week, Year 3 continued with their current unit of inquiry, “How the world works”. This week students learned about different types of boats, what makes them unique and most importantly, what makes them buoyant. To show what they had learned, students designed and created their own boats. After the building phase, the boats had to be tested to see how well they floated and how they might be improved in future. Next up.....bridge design!

Message from Mr Greg

This week the Yr 7 and Yr 8 students went to Cliff Haus in YingDe, QingYuan for their respective Week Without Walls. The students got to engage in various activities like rock climbing, cave exploring, and hiking. It was a great time for them to do some learning outside of the classroom. One of the highlights, albeit a scary one, was when they got to learn about some of the indigenous animal in QingYuan. Good to see our students being risk-takers and inquirers outside of the walls of UISZ.

DP

DP students were on their last week of examination this week - and displayed the focus and determination we have all come to admire and respect. IB Assessment is based on a combination of final examinations and course work, which are evaluated by external examiners worldwide, and (in some cases for coursework) by internal assessment. IB examinations for each subject are held on the same days for all students worldwide - in May in the Northern Hemisphere and in October in the case of most Southern Hemisphere schools. Many universities seek to recruit IB students because they offer both breadth of knowledge and depth, particularly in their higher level subjects.

OUTRO

After such a busy week we wish all of our students and their parents and care givers a relaxing weekend. We can't wait to see you all next week for the Spring Performance and Y12 graduation ceremony.

Warmest wishes,
UISZ School & Boarding Community
