Message from Miss Valentine

Bienvenue en Français, welcome back to French!

This is a pleasure to welcome familiar and new faces in French class!

As we are starting the year, the Year 10th were playing some ice-breakers and memory games last week -to see if they have forgotten everything over the summer, or not... The good news is: they have not!

Our resolution for this year is: speak more French in class, and use more dictionaries instead of translation tools.

Au travail!

Message from Ms Yolanda

In Chinese A classes this week, year 11 and year 12 students applied their communication, social and creative-thinking skills to make their own name cards. As well as brainstormed names for the Chinese A classroom, based on their understandings and learning experience of Chinese Language and Literature. The teacher also joined in this activity by writing an article to interpret the name, which she created for the classroom. This article was used as a material for Year 12 students to inquire Paper 1 of Chinese Language and Literature. They were encouraged to write guided textual analysis and reflection after reading it. In the study of language and literature of Diploma Programme, students are expected to inquire into multiple kinds of texts, which are closely linked to our real life. This is a journey full of joys and challenges. Just enjoy it!

Message from Ms Josephine

In my DP Physics class this week we started exploring the two laws in the electric field. 1) The law of charge , and 2) The law of conservation. Students participated in various experiments to better understand the underlying concepts.
